MAY 10/11, 2014

THE THEME

Today is Good Shepherd Sunday, and we will hear in the Gospel that sheep recognize the true shepherd's voice. In North America we are also celebrating Mother's Day.

Good mothers are like good shepherds, desiring the safety of their children, praying that they listen to true voices and follow the true path. We pray for every mother's child, for the opportunity and the desire to grow into the child of God each is meant to be.

THE READINGS

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES 2:14a, 36-41: Peter preaches and 3,000 are baptized.

1PETER 2:20b-25: You have returned to the shepherd and guardian of your souls.

JOHN 10:1-10: The sheep know the shepherd's voice.

4th Sunday of Easter

Dear Parish Family:

The fourth Sunday of Easter is called "Good Shepherd Sunday." The Gospel recall the reassuring words of Jesus that he will watch over His flock and protect it from the dangers of the enemy. We all look for a God who cares and is concerned about us. The readings today proclaim that truth. God does care. God is our loving shepherd. This is one reason that Psalm 23 has such universal appeal. The image of the Shepherd who cares and guides and protects is one that brings comfort and hope.

The image of the shepherd was also one that appealed to the early Christians and was among the most popularly depicted images in the early centuries of the Church. Pope Benedict draws attention to this in his encyclical 'Spe Salvi'. As he says, in Roman art the image of the shepherd was an expression of the dream of a tranquil and simple life. But the Christian symbol of the shepherd brings with it a new meaning and a deeper content. "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want..Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I fear no evil, because you are with me. . ." (Ps 23:1,4). The true shepherd is one who knows even the path that passes through the valley of death; one who walks with me even on the path of final solitude, where no one can accompany me, guiding me through; he himself has walked through the path, he has descended into the kingdom of death, he has conquered death, and he has returned to accompany us now to give us certainty that, together with him, we can find a way through. The realization that there is One who even in death accompanies me and 'with his rod and staff comforts me', so that 'I fear no evil', this was the new hope that arose over the life of believers."

Jesus is the gateway to a new and abundant life. When we search for security outside of him we find only chaos. But with the Lord Jesus we find salvation. We find new life here on earth, and we enter upon the pathway that leads to the restful waters and verdant pastures of heaven. The Eucharist is a constant reminder that the good shepherd has prepared a banquet for us. May our participation in the Eucharist draw us into closer communion with him and enable us to follow always the path along which he leads us.

God Bless you always,
Fr. Peter

STEWARDSHIP

Stewardship Reflection

Jesus says, "I came that they may have life, and have it to the full."

Good stewards are grateful for the gifts of life and joyfully share their abundance with others.

Living Stewardship

We are grateful this week for all stewards in our parish who respond and give thanks for God's blessings by sharing their gifts of time and talent in service "to and through" our parish ministries.
